Dear VMC Cooperators and Friends,

I am pleased to announce, on behalf of the VMC Steering Committee, that Dr. Jennifer Jenkins of the University of Vermont has been appointed as the new VMC Program Director. Dr. Jenkins brings a strong background in forest ecosystem science, climate change, and interdisciplinary cooperative research to the position, as well as a vision about monitoring and research that will serve the VMC Program well as it evolves into the future. She officially began her duties on July 1, 2007. Please join us in welcoming Jen to the VMC.

Ed O'Leary
Vermont Monitoring Cooperative
Steering Committee Chair
